State Intercollegiate Union.

The fall meeting of the advisory board of the New York State Intercollegiate Union was held at Bagg's Hotel last Saturday afternoon.

Hobart was fined $100, due to the fact that the athletic committee decided her excuses for cancelling the baseball game scheduled with Rochester for May 28, 1903, were insufficient.

It was voted to give the pennants won by Union University in 1900-01 to that institution, and a committee was appointed to procure them. President Leighton reported that the union had rejected the petition, made by Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute of Troy, for admission to the union.

William E. Ward of Colgate, as treasurer, reported receipts to the amount of $339.04, and disbursements amounting to $80.06; leaving on hand a balance of $259.39. The net receipts from the Colgate meet last spring were $55.04.

The treasurer received instructions to pay the Hobart College Athletic Association $150, this being its share of the proceeds of the track meet held in Utica in May, 1903. Hobart's right to this share had been questioned, but it was finally decided as above stated.

Colgate was awarded the track and baseball pennants for 1904. Pending a ruling on a disputed game, the football pennant for 1903 was not awarded.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Prof. J. A. Leighton, Hobart; vice-president, William E. Weed, Colgate; secretary, G. C. Kingsley, Hamilton; treasurer, F. S. Macomber, Rochester; assistant treasurer, E. E. Morris, Rochester; finance committee, Profs. Leighton, Huntington, Squires and Hoeing; athletic committee, H. J. Cookingham, Jr., F. S. Macomber, Mr. Chase and Prof. Huntington.

The new surgical building and clinical amphitheatre of Johns Hopkins Hospital was opened last week. The building is a four-story structure, erected at a cost of $150,000.

The Fall Field Meet.

The Sophomore-Freshman Inter-class Meet held last Thursday proved an unexpectedly and exceptionally good event. The meet had been generally conceded to the Freshmen, but the Sophomores turned out in good strength and up to the last event the result hung in the balance. The weather was rather chilly, but good for the season; the track of course in poor shape, especially on the back stretch. The crowd was small, hardly half the College were on the field. It would seem that the College ought to support the track meet better than it has for the past two years, from College spirit, if not for sport's sake. The gate receipts just about pay for the printing.

There is considerable material among the Freshmen that looks like 'varsity timber, and with experience and training this should be mightily improved. The Sophomores did well, in fact, much better than was expected of them, and they deserve all praise for the plucky fight they put up.

Sherman, '08, and Grossmeyer, '07, lead off their teams worthily by two well-won first places each. Roseboom, '08, captured the most points, taking three firsts and a second. Holley, '08, was close up with two firsts and a second. Allen, Meeker, Bagg, Peck and Swetman all did good work for the Sophomores. Pratt, McLean, and Miller are promising Freshmen.

Roseboom, '08, took both his heat and the final of the hundred yards dash by a couple of yards. The time was 11 1-5 seconds in both instances. Miller, '07, and Holley, '08, ran well and finished close up.

Sherman, '08, won the shot-put easily with a distance of 35 feet 5 1-2 inches. The half was a cinch for Grossmeyer, '07, in the very good time for a fall meet of 2 minutes 18 3-5 seconds.

Both hurdles showed the same place

Cornell Wins.

Last Saturday Hamilton played her third game of this season, with Cornell at Ithaca. It was a hard fought contest from start to finish, much more so than the score would indicate. Twenty-two of the thirty-four points made by Cornell were made during the last eight minutes of play, when our men had become so exhausted that they were unable to withstand the attacks of practically a new and heavy team.

Every man on the team played his best and played until there was not a bit of strength left in him. Captain Speh, Bramley, Mann and Haggerson were the star men. Bramley's long run at the end of the first half was the most sensational play of the day, while Mann's strong line bucking proved a means of gaining nearly every time. Although this was Haggerson's first hard game on the 'varsity, he made good, and by his nerve and pluck showed that we can expect big things from him in the future. LeMunyan and Sicard easily outplayed the Cornell ends at every point.

Cornell opened the game by kicking off to Mann, who ran the ball back to Hamilton's 25-yard line before he was downed. Stowell made five yards around left end, but on the next three scrimmages the Cornell line held and Bramley was forced to punt. Cornell caught the ball on the 45-yard line and then began a steady advance toward the Hamilton goal. Once Cornell lost it on a fumble, but regained it again, and finally Birmingham was pushed over for the first touchdown. He also kicked the goal.

The second touchdown for Cornell was made after a couple of long runs by Rice and Birmingham. Rice carried the ball over and Birmingham kicked the goal. There was only about a minute left when Bramley took the ball on a quarterback run and started up the field. It looked as if Hamilton nearly had a touchdown, but Bramley was forced out of bounds on Cornell's 20-yard line. This ended the first half.

Hamilton opened the second half in an aggressive style and by a series of line bucks, carried the ball from the center of the field to Cornell's 12-yard line, where it was lost on a fumble. Cornell then began to pick up, and after a 35-yard run by Gibson, brought the ball to Hamilton's 10-yard line, and on the next play Halliday was pushed over for the third touchdown. From this point Cornell had her own way and scored two touchdowns in quick succession. The game ended with the ball on Hamilton's 10-yard line. The lineup was as follows:

	Left end.
LeMunyan,	Oderkirk, (Hackstaff).
	Left tackle.
Swetman,	Cook, (Martin).
	Left guard.

The Fall Field Meet.

winner, Holley, '08, MacLean, '08, and D. Miller, '07. Neither race was run in better than fair time.

Bagg, '07, startled everybody by waking up at the eleventh hour and clearing 5 feet 3 1-2 inches. Roseboom, '08, had received place at 4 feet 11 inches after jumping off a general tie for second and third.

The mile run was notable for Meeker's good sprint on the last lap and "Big Bill" Mansfield's plucky running.

Sherman, '08, got his second first in the hammer throw. The broad jump was a pretty contest. Peck, '07, led off with 18 feet 11 inches, and that mark was unbeaten till Roseboom, '08, on his final trial dropped one out at 19 feet 4 inches. There is quite a promising bunch of men for the jumps in the two under classes, some of whom ought to be heard from next spring.

Grossmeyer, '07, and Pratt, '08, made a good race of the 440 yards dash. The former led all the way and though pushed on the lower turn finished some yards to the good, time 59 3-5 seconds. Pratt, '08, and Clark, '07, captured first and second respectively in the 220 yards dash. Time 26 seconds, rather slow.

The two-mile run was lots of fun for the spectators. Only Sophomores ran. They ran backwards, hippity-hopped, joked with the lookers on, fainted on every lap, amid merriment such that the judges lost all track of the number of laps run. After debating whether to let them run indefinitely they were finally stopped somewhere around the two mile mark.

Swetman, '07, threw the discus far enough to win, if not to break any records, and Roseboom, '08, did likewise in the pole vault.

All in all the meet was a success, and all concerned have every reason to be encouraged by the outlook for next season.

Today's Game.

Yesterday afternoon a fair sized crowd assembled on the sidelines and rehearsed the new songs for today's game. The songs all seem to take well, and if everybody has them memorized in good shape by this afternoon they ought to be very effective in winning the game.

The college body is expected to assemble at the gymnasium previous to the game and march on the field to the bleachers en masse. Union is bringing a large number of rooters to encourage her team and expects to win. They always have a fine collection of football songs and yells and know how to render them. With the victories of last year and the year before that in mind we should go on the field with the determination to down them as in the days of yore.

The Yale University list of faculty and instructors, has now upon it 9 emeritus professors, 114 professors, 54 assistant professors, 137 instructors, and 42 assistant instructors—a total of 347.

EVERY man did his very best in football subscriptions this fall. In view of this fact it seems only fair that we should not be called upon to pay more than has been customary for admission to the games. The entrance fee today is placed at fifty cents. We are willing to pay that much once during the season, say for the Colgate game, but it seems that such a charge now is imposing on good nature. Everyone is anxious to support the management, especially in a financial way, but other seasons have been run on twenty-five cents admission. Why not this? This article is not meant as a knock but to call the attention of the management to something which seems to us, only fair to the students.

The Republican Club.

Wednesday, immediately after noon rhetorical, the Republicans in College met and organized themselves into a club. Munger, '05, was chairman of the meeting, and of course the first business was the election of officers. Paton, '05, was deemed worthy of being entrusted with the duties and responsibilities of the office of president. The next plume, the vice-presidency, was awarded to Sullivan, '05. The office of secretary fell to Perry Miller, '06, and McLean, '06, is to have charge of the money box. The club starts off with a large membership and promise of great popularity.

The Democrats form a very small minority of the student body, while the Prohibitionists are practically a minus quantity. With these facts in its favor the Republican club ought to have a peaceful career, unbroken by the distressing disputes of those of other political faiths.

The Musical Clubs.

In this day of numerous college activities the musical clubs stand head and shoulders above all non-athletic organizations from both an honorary and pleasurable standpoint. There is no better way in which new men can become acquainted with many of the best men in college than on the musical club trips, lasting from a day to a week. If a man likes a healthy good time for several days, let him bend all his efforts toward making a musical club.

The practice for the Glee Club begins this week and every Freshman that can carry an air should turn out and try for one of the many open positions. The Freshmen are especially lucky this year as there are seven out of sixteen places to be filled, three first tenors, one second tenor, two first basses, and one second bass. The two readers on last year's club have also graduated, so there is a good chance for someone who is an interesting reader or comedian.

The men of last year's Glee Club who are still with us are: Rockwell, (leader) Springstead, Hand, Munger, Rogers and Merrick of 1905, Purdy, French and Warburton of 1906. There are also six vacancies in the Mandolin and Guitar Club, two first mandolins, two guitars, and two second mandolins. The leader, Stowell, '04, will issue a call for candidates very soon, and 1908 should do its best to get some men on this club.

The manager, Wright, '05, is preparing a week's trip for Easter vacation, probably giving concerts in Geneva, Auburn, Elmira, Oneida, Binghamton and Norwich. Concerts will be given before long in Clinton, Utica and other nearby towns.

The Wednesday Matinee.

Instead of the usual routine of Wednesday rhetorical the exercise was converted into light comic opera with accompanying recitations. The chief actors were the Sophomore chorus and Drummond, chief orator, and the Freshmen. The professor of oratory was stage manager. Prof. Babcock was errand boy and door tender.

The entertainment began with the stage manager's instructions to the chorus (Sophomores in gallery) to take their proper position in the orchestra, or in other words to remove en masse outside. The chorus struck up one of the old Greek marching chants, "Give the Baby Goo," and descended, amid wild applause from the pit, to the vestibule of the chapel. Here the Sophomores sang the classic dirge, "I stand here freezing, out in the rain" and other wonderful chants. As the chorus interfered with the dialogue on the stage, the stage manager, to "add dignity to the act," called on Mr. Babcock to please instruct the chorus to disperse.

The chorus dispersed to the sides of the chapel and raised the Grecian war cry, "Royal Gaboons," and cried defiantly, "We want 'Hank.'" The confusion having become so great, orders were given to the errand boy, who knew not one Sophomore from another, to go out and take the names of the chorus who refused to disband. Soon peace reigned without and within, and the curtain dropped.

New Songs.

The following songs have been composed for this afternoon's game and everybody should be prepared to do his share in rendering them in as effective a way as possible.

Tune: "It was not like that," etc.

It will be as it was in the olden days,
In the games within recall,
In those fast old, strong old, nerry games,
When our teams have downed them all,
For we'll wipe up the field as we used to do,

With the ——— team before,
And now in vain they'll play again,
As in the games of yore.

Tune: "Reuben, I've been thinking."

Union, Union, I've been thinking,
What a sad day this will be,
When we send you all back crying,
Back to old Schenectady.

Tune: Chorus to "Blue Bells."

Good-bye, old Union,
Farewell to you,
You will be beaten
By the buff and blue.
Touchdowns in plenty—
But none for you—
You can't play football
With the Buff and Blue.

Tune: "Teasing."

Gaining! gaining!
See us gaining down the field.
Yielding! yielding!
Your old line is bound to yield.
Beaten! beaten!
Here is where the song comes true.
Union! beaten!
Beaten by the Buff and Blue.

News From Colgate.

Colgate opened this fall with 102 new men, 99 of whom were Freshmen.

Thirty-five men turned out for the first football practice. Colgate plays the famous Watertown team at Watertown today, and Hobart Wednesday at Colgate. The proposed game with the University of Buffalo has been cancelled by Buffalo.

Several men were injured in the Cornell and Syracuse games. Runge, Simmons, Thurber and Housman are out of it for a time.

Colgate has lost by graduation her halfback, quarterback and one end. W. Stringer has left college and R. Stringer is permanently out of the game. There is no football material whatever in the Freshman class.

The College Psalter.

PSALM I.

1. Blessed is the Freshman that walketh not in the counsel of the Fusers, nor standeth on the corner of the "Avenoo," nor sitteth by the side of the "Widows."

2. But his delight is in the faculty's leg, and in pursuit of this doth he plugitate day and night.

3. And verily he shall get ten-spots for his pains; a Phi Beta Kappa key too shall be his; and whatsoever he doeth shall prosper.

4. The Fusers are not so; but are like the raisins which are dropped from the roll.

5. Therefore the Fusers shall not stand at Commencement nor be approved in the assembly of the grey beards.

PSALM II.

1. Verily the college Widow is but deceit and all her ways are ways of folly.

2. She hideth her age; she concealeth her rightful visage as behind a veil.

3. She has her druggist's hair and complexion, and behold all things seem good.

4. Under her tongue is vanity, and flattery; she lieth in wait secretly as a lion in his den; she lieth in wait to catch the Freshman.

5. And after he has drawn himself into the net and is caught; after he has pungled his hard-earned cash on Huyler's and athletic tickets.

6. She gives him the "shake-day-day," and passes on her way seeking whom else she may devour.

College Notes.

—Coach Turner remained in Ithaca over Sunday after the Cornell game.

—Meade, '08, who has been suffering from an attack of blood poisoning, is slowly recovering.

—Swetman, '07, is laid up with a bad cut over the eye. He will be back in the game in time to do some good work against Williams.

—Munger, '05, while leading the cheering at practice earnestly exhorts "those men on the other side of Jordan come in strong on the Road."

—The College family still increases. We now have a Republican club. The admirers of Parker will meet after chapel today and form a rival organization.

—Dr. Root will preach in the College chapel tomorrow. It is a safe bet that very few cuts will be taken, as the College is ever ready to listen to one of his sermons.

—The Dutch class is in more trouble; some one else has called the Emperor of Germany a "cheese." It only remains now for some bright youth to call him a "Dutch" man. Then the fire will fly.

—A great share of the surplus of animal spirits found in the Sophomore and Freshman classes could be worked off any afternoon from four to six on the athletic field. Remember that the manager still has a few football suits and Coach Turner is always on the look-out for a good man.

—The cheer leaders have been busy this week trying new songs. Several good parodies have been written and should make a hit in the game today. Let every man in College be on Steuben Field, and remember that last year we cheered and yelled Union to a stand-still on the Garnet's own campus.

—The Juniors are now well mixed up with physiology. The favorite "holding hands" stunt has been tried and '06 proved rather slow. In fact, Kinney was unaffected by stimulus and proved a "block signal" on the line. It was said that Kinney had been seen in "Ute" the night before and as a result his response was poor. "Bill" Purdy also proved a "block signal" but offered no excuse. It was just a plain case of "went to sleep."

—"One lost cry from the depth"—of the dirt in the bath room of the "gym." There is a tradition of a report that at some past age a scrubbing brush and mop were seen in the dressing room and bath of our gymnasium, though even Peter Kelly can not vouch for the truth of this.

—"The powers that be" would win the thanks of the College if a directory were placed in the chapel. It would be inexpensive and still a great convenience to all. A simple bulletin board bearing the names and College addresses of all the students would be just the thing. We trust that this addition to the comforts of the College will not be overlooked.

—The Board of Trustees of Clinton have offered $4,200 for the distributing system which is owned by the old electric light company. This offer is open until Oct. 25, and if accepted we may expect to have lights on the Hill in a very short time. However, if no agreement is reached we may not hope for lights before spring, as an entirely new system will be necessary.

—The only thing that mars the beauty of the campus this fall, is the pile of stone and brick scattered in front of the Hall of Philosophy. Of course it is at the end of the campus, but it shows all the more plainly, being near Carnegie Hall. It seems a pity that this should remain when the remainder of the campus is so well tended. Everything ought to be at its best in time for the Rochester and Colgate games.

—Without meaning to dictate to College authorities, it might be suggested that the Library reference room be heated upon a little better style. If a student wishes to use the library, he desires thoroughness, and thoroughness takes time; but when he is discomfited by the frigidity of the temperature, he is only too glad to "cut it short." An improvement in this respect would not only be greatly appreciated, but it would tend to improve the library work in general.

—For the past week the nights have been made hideous by the yells of the conquerers and shrieks of the vanquished in the rows, gym. shows, scurf meetings, etc., between the two under classes. Carnegie Hall has been the center of interest and its walls resound with many a whack, whack, as the bastinado does its work. Sophomores and Freshmen have suffered in about equal numbers. It is all very funny at first, but after one has seen half a dozen fellows paddled or even heard the famous cuckoo call issuing from beneath some desk or table for the fortieth time, it gets to be rather an old story. Let us therefore have a short breathing spell, or at least confine the festivities to the early evening.

—The faculty have now formed a labor union. It has been decreed that Mr. Babcock shall not be allowed to keep the Library open after 4:30 in the afternoon. The Librarian must not work longer than the other members. It would also seem that Wednesday afternoon has been set aside as a holiday for the faculty clerk. We cannot see why the heads of this College wish to close the Library at such an unreasonable hour, or why we have been shut out for the past two Wednesday afternoons. Men working on reports are able to accomplish little or nothing after a three o'clock recitation. Certainly with a Librarian living within two hundred yards of his post there is no reasonable excuse for such a step as has been taken.

—Owing to the kindness of Dr. Stryker the Sophomores received a cut in noon rhetoricals Wednesday. Anxious to do something for the honor of this class and the instruction of the Freshmen, they adjourned to the gallery seats in the chapel. Everyone expected an interesting hour, but the inconsiderate conductor of the time-honored chapel exercises blocked the sport, or rather the "criticism," before it could even begin. The class of 1907 was requested to absent themselves, which they did to the tune of "Pea Green Slimmer." Several appropriate songs were sung in the vestibule and under the windows, but after the Chair had sent three "appeals" and two threats, the warblers decided that discretion should come before valor, and dispersed.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

The following is the schedule of Sunday afternoon meetings in Silliman Hall for the remainder of October:

- Oct. 16—Reports of Northfield delegates.
- Oct. 23—Prof. Davenport will speak.
- Oct. 30—A College "Sing."

Mr. Walter T. Diack, Williams, '03, talked over Association plans for this year with Day, '05, Friday evening and also met with the chairman and leaders of Bible Study. He gave fresh impetus to the fraternity system of Bible Study by his favorable reports of its success elsewhere.

Twenty-two Freshmen were enrolled in Bible Study last Sunday. This strong showing will make it necessary to have another leader to help Roosa, '06, the present leader of the class, for which position Thompson, '06, has been appointed.

Among the Colleges.

By the will of Mrs. Elizabeth G. Kelly the University of Chicago will receive $150,000 The will provides that the money is to be spent in the erection of a memorial building for Hiram Kelly.

Yale's preliminary catalogue for the academic department and scientific school shows an unlooked-for falling off in the size of the Freshman class, which numbers only 346 as compared with 431 last year.

At the University of Pennsylvania active work has been started in the organization of clubs to represent not only every county in Pennsylvania, and every state in the Union, but every country throughout the world from which students come to the University. When the task is completed there should be fully 200 clubs.
