All communication between Dijon and Paris, being now shut up; and a total uncertainty as to when the struggle between France and the allied Powers, might cease: No Man would lend money to another; and the price of every article, was raised.
It therefore came into our heads, that if I presented a petition to the Emperour of Prussia; he might do something for us !!!!!

The first of these is the fact that the British and the other powers had the right to the land which was the property of the crown and the people of the country.

••• : N. B. For this Sum, I accepted a bill from Stalker & Welch, of Leadenhall Street; but they having failed, I paid it to Mr. Saltmarsh, of Corbet Court Gracechurch Street; one of the Assignees: These Persons having endorsed my Bill, refused to sign this receipt, which I wished to exchange for the bill, after it was paid. •••
