

THE O. C. DAILY.

VOL. 3. SATURDAY, MAY 25, 1867. NO. 125.

There was a large supper-party held in the dining-room, yesterday, given in behalf of our three brothers who were to leave for Wallingford in the night. Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Ackley and H. E. Allen, were here from W. P. Sentiments were called for, but there was little response. Mr. Cragin said, however, that Mr. Noyes had remarked, that when he came here the first time, it was for the purpose of investigating social science, and the last time, to investigate the science of the Bible.

G. W. N., spoke about the Herald's having given the world a page of O. C. anice—and he said that perhaps he and C. S. J., would be prepared, on their return, to give us another chapter on Oceanica.

The trio left at midnight in fine spirits. Our prayers go with them.

We ship, to-day, to Wm. Topping & Co., fifty-five old style Lunch-Bags to be sold at auction, as "Traveler's Sample Cases."

We also ship to Stanton & Co., Chicago, nine Leather, and six Leather Cloth Lunch-bags, ordered by him in April. We have filled within a week, twenty-two orders, and have a larger stock of ready made bags on hand now, than at any time within the last six months. We have twenty orders on our books yet unfilled, which we hope to dispose of the coming week.

The Lord prospers us, and the revival spirit in our hearts, gives us inspiration to do with our might, what he gives us to do.

Will our Agents please to be particular about giving the right initials, in sending us the names of their customers, who order bags. N.

Plastering, papering, whitewashing and cleaning, all beautifully intermixed, have for several days been transpiring at the Mansion and middle house. The New House is entirely free from all this disorder, the cleaning there having been finished more than a week ago.—Every thing in the line of repairs however, approximates toward its close, when the improved aspect of things will amply repay us for all the inconvenience we have suffered, while the work of criticism has been going on.

C. S. J. gave us last night, at Mr. Woolworth's request, a brief history of his course of study, both at Yale, and Columbia College, together with his examination and admission to the bar.

The fruit-preserving corps have received a barrel of pine-apples, which they are putting up for the sake of experimenting with their new bottles.

A quartette song, a duet and a solo were sung last night at the close of meeting; also a song by the children, and a piece of music on the piano.

—◆◆◆—
The sun really shines, to-day, and not a cloud is to be seen in the heavens.

—◆◆◆—
We really shall be obliged to send out, to-day, for a rarity, some blank paper, as our copy runs short, and we have no letters that are interesting, or items of news to report.

—◆◆◆—
Yesterday's temperature—

7 A. M., 40. 12 M., 60. 6 P. M., 62. Mean $56\frac{2}{3}$.

