

THE O. C. DAILY.

VOL. 3. MONDAY, APRIL 8, 1867. NO. 83.

BUSINESS MEETING.

J. Leonard proposed that J. Freeman take his place as reporter of the Business meetings. Approved.

Mr. Worden suggested the propriety of commencing work on the road soon. Teams can be better spared now than later. Referred to Messrs. Clark, Conant and Barron.

F. Marks read the following note from the occupants of the lower Sitting-room: "The undersigned would respectfully inform the Buisness Board that they are considerably annoyed by the pounding in the cellar below. In fact it is anything but agreeable. If it were to continue only for a short time, they would not say a word, but as they understand it is to be prolonged, they would ask that it may be removed." It was decided to remove the box business to the Tontine.

Homer Barron reported that the cost of tinning the roof of the front Portico would be $11.00 per square, including the cost of putting it on. There are about three squares, or 280 feet. It was thought we could buy the tin at wholesale prices. Moved that the roof be tinned at as small a cost as possible. Homer and Abram appointed a committee to attend to it.

In conversation with a good brother a few days since, on the subject of false love, he asked me if I didn't think it was a principality to which woman yields more readily than man, or rather are they not prone to tempt man? I was compelled to say yes, I think it is so, and although I have thought much on this subject of late, it came home to my heart with renewed power.

Is it true thought I, that woman whom God has made to be a help-meet to man, is guilty of alluring him from the noble purposes which truth has implanted in him? is it because she is vain and loves attention? Let her adorn herself with a meek and quiet spirit, which in the sight of God is of great price, and she cannot fail to secure the attention and love of all those who are in heart fellowship with Christ. R.

The controversy between Mr. Dunning and the O. C finally culminated on Saturday last, in an arbitration held at Oneida Castle. The arbitrators mutually chosen by the parties, were Mr. Dorrance by O. C., and Esqr. Avery by Mr. D. Their award (founded principally on Mr. D's. own testimony,) was that the O. C. had broken no contract—that Dunning had no cause of complaint—consequently was entitled to no damage. After their award was declared, pay for their services was offered them, which they generously refused. We shall make them a present of some canned fruit. It was decided also to make Mr. D. a present of $25. Mr. Kinsley stated that his respect, for him was greatly increased by his simple truthful statement.

Mr. Daniel Kelly came Saturday afternoon. He seems very glad to get back. The following note from him to the family was read last night:

"I can truly say that I am very thankful to God for the privilege of returning to the Community. I have come this time to stay whether I like it or not. I have come on my own responsibility, and with an understanding—have enlisted for life, and have decided live or die, to serve the Lord. I shall be thankful for any discipline that will be necessary to bring me nearer to Christ. I confess my entire obedience to Mr. Noyes, and my union with him and the Community, and am ready to do anything that they or Mr. Noyes have for me to do.

D. M. KELLY.

The reading of Dixon's book was omitted last night. In meeting at Mr. Noyes request, articles were read from the "American Journal of Science and Arts," the "World," and the "Springfield Republican," disclosing some startling facts relative to the increase of abortions, and the cause, both in this country and in Europe. Massachusetts, that State that boasts of her Puritanical blood, seems to be taking the lead in this diabolical work, outstripping even New-York City in her deeds of darkness, in producing abortions. The subject will be continued to-night.

This week promises to be a busy one to the outdoor corps. The Horticulturists have the raspberries to uncover, stake and tie up, and the grape-vines to uncover, and the straw to rake off the strawberries, besides getting the ground ready for potatoes, peas, &c., &c.

We send to-day 500 Philadelphia raspberry plants to a man in Gettysburg Pa., price $15 per hundred.

Mrs. Bushnell had a letter from Albert, Saturday, informing her that his Aunt Eunice, Mr. Bushnell's sister, who lived in the family was dead.

E. S. Nash started for Boston in the night. We understand he goes to purchase leather for bags.

Forty-five yards of carpeting have been bought for the Willow-Place house.

Mr. H. R. Perry has taken E. S. Burnham's place in the evening reading of letters and reports.

Why do people who take berths in sleeping cars have two heads?
