I confirm what precedes. I have this day executed the bill of Sale for the Ship Pretty Nancy, so that you will now soon have that Ships Accounts transmitted to you.

Capt. Appleton has sold your Ship the Britannia at Dublin, he has remitted to me three severall Bills wth. £308. 10. 9

£300. & £300. he tells me there is more, a small matter to come to your credit. — these bills have been all accepted;

Appleton is coming hither. — I have paid your drafts for £227. In favour of John Nelson. Dated 13 June 1760, without Advice — I am

29 Sep^r. I have just receiv^d.

Another remittance of £50. from Capt. Appleton

London 27 Nov 1760

This hands you the Accounts of your Ship the Pretty Nancy Capt. Stokell which I have lately Adjusted & have given you Credit for the Ballance of the same being the nett produce of her sale & freight from Antigua £1946. 6. 5 I doubt not your finding it correct — I find a good deal of difficulty in getting the return of premiums from the Insurers on the Britannia Appleton, she not proceeding the destined voyage, they alledge that they were a considerable time answerable for the risque while she lay in port & before her destination was altered, I will do the best I can for you but I believe some concessions must be made.
You
